

Blaine Adopts Public Records Of Income Reports

Pitiless Publicity for State Income Returns Provided for in Bill.

REVENUE BELOW EXPENSES

Tax Bill Backed by the Administration to Be Introduced Wednesday.

By United Press Leased Wire—Madison—"Pitiless publicity" for state income tax returns was provided in a bill introduced in the state senate Monday by State Senator Herman J. Severson, Iola.

The bill would provide that all reports be made public and available for scrutiny.

"There is nothing in the reports to give competitors inside information," said Senator Severson.

"McAdoo is the authority for the statement that if income tax reports were public records the coal barons would never have gotten away with the enormous profits they have made. The bill is a preventive measure."

The bill was introduced this morning and the assembly began its weekly grind at 2 o'clock this afternoon.

The state is said to be in a financial dilemma.

It must either erase $17,000,000 from the budget requested by the various departments, or the legislature make provisions to increase the state's income $17,000,000.

To take $17,000,000 from the departmental budget means crippling state institutions, the extent of which is yet to be determined. To add $17,000,000 to the tax burden of the state will call for a protest by the people that may resemble a political earthquake.

All well informed members of the general assembly are taking the situation seriously. Most of them are undecided as to which horn to grab, but the majority is leaning towards keeping the appropriations within the state income.

The requested budget calls for a total of $72,000,000 for the next two years. The estimated income for the period is $55,000,000.

The Socialist members have the clearest defined policy so far. They would give the state institutions the money necessary for their upkeep and expansion and throw the burdens of taxation upon the wealthy. The Arnold bill, increasing income tax rates, indicates the trend of party sentiment. Senator Arnold is the leader of the Socialist section.

Blaine Tax Bill

An income tax boost, backed by the administration, will be introduced in the assembly next Thursday by John L. Dahl, assemblyman from Barron.

The new bill is the foundation tax measure advocated by Gov. John J. Blaine and is companion to the Severson bill. The measure includes many suggestions made by Governor Blaine in his message.

The salient features of the bill are:

Repeal of the secrecy clause in the 1911 law.

Exemption from taxation of incomes of single persons up to $1,000.

Exemption from taxation of incomes of married persons up to $2,000 and allowing $200 additional exemption for each dependent child.

Repeal of that portion of the 1911 law providing exemption of incomes of state banks, national banks, mutual savings banks and trust companies.

No exemption to individuals where corporations pay income taxes where the dividend is greater than $5,000 annually.

Repeal of the personal property offset.

The tax rates provided in the Dahl bill are:

One per cent on the first $1,000 of taxable income.

One and one half per cent on the second $1,000.

Two per cent on the third $1,000.

Three per cent on the fourth $1,000.

Five per cent on the sixth $1,000.

Six per cent on the seventh $1,000.

Eight per cent on all taxable incomes in excess of $7,500.

The Severson bill effects incomes in excess of $5,000.

NEW YORK GIRL IS STOLEN FROM HOME

By United Press Leased Wire—White Plains, N. Y.—Miss Anna King was abducted from a house in Scarsdale at midnight by a gang of armed men traveling in two automobiles, according to a report to the police here Monday.

Miss King was taken from the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Albion, where she had lived several months, the police were informed.

One of the men claimed that the girl was married to a member of the gang. Other people in the house resisted when the armed men tried to force an entrance and shots were fired. A young woman, daughter of Albion's, was grazed by a bullet.

Police were informed that the kidnapers threw a blanket around Miss King and carried her to one of the automobiles. One of the members of the abduction gang was a woman, according to the police report.

HARDING HAS PICKED ABLE CABINET MEN

President-elect Makes Good on His Promise to Have Efficient Aides.

SCORN "BIG" INTERESTS

Men Selected Are Big Enough to Be Able to Withstand Pressure.

BY DAVID LAWRENCE
(Copyright, 1921)

Washington—Enough of the members of the prospective cabinet of President Harding have been selected to catalog some of the personal characteristics of the men who will endeavor to bring the United States back to normalcy.

Opinions may differ at this stage of the game as to what constitutes a good cabinet or an able cabinet, but the thing Warren Harding had in mind was getting a serviceable cabinet. Democrats and calm deliberation. Republicans in the capital are not only satisfied but enthusiastically expectant.

Take Andrew W. Mellon, of Pittsburgh, who is to be secretary of the treasury. The call to service in his case is an extraordinary piece of luck for Mr. Mellon. For not only is Mr. Mellon the second richest man in America—said to be worth hundreds of millions of dollars—but his executive genius has enabled him to build up organization after organization with the calm that comes out of master planning and calm deliberation. His wealth makes Mr. Mellon no longer interested in the business world but ready to turn his talents to the public service. He was picked by Mr. Harding as a type of successful business man who would measure up to campaign promises of efficiency in government.

Hughes Independent

Consider, next, Charles Evans Hughes, than whom there is no more independent minded individual in public life today. There is no anticipation that under his auspices the department of state will be turned upside down for political purposes. There is every expectation that the perennial effort to put the diplomatic and consular service on an efficiency instead of a political basis will at last be realized for Mr. Hughes isn't the kind of man who would listen to the pleadings of politicians or the whisperings of ambitious job hunters. The mere fact that a man who occupied a position on the Supreme Court of the United States and a man who was himself within a few electoral votes of being president of the United States should preside over the department of state is counted upon to bring prestige to the department and convey an influence of quiet dignity and firmness in the dispatch of business with foreign diplomats and statesmen, both here and abroad.

Then there is the secretaryship of war. John W. Weeks, former senator from Massachusetts, is a very wealthy man and therefore has no reason to cater to any interests for future gain as is so often the case with the official who looks upon his position either as a stepping stone socially or as an opportunity in future business or the pursuit of his profession. John Weeks showed his independence, as a member of the senate, he broke away from his party and voted with the Democrats in favor of the present federal reserve act. Mr. Weeks knows official Washington and government methods. It will not take him long to familiarize himself with the war department.

Lowden Is Business Man

Frank O. Lowden, as secretary of the navy, is another piece of good luck for Mr. Harding. The navy department is a place of naval officers who control naval operations but the head of the department must know something of business methods for the disbursement of many millions of dollars in economical fashion is the task of an administrator and not necessarily a naval strategist. Mr. Lowden's record as a business administrator in Illinois was such

KU KLUX KLAN SENDS WARNING TO HOUSTON

By United Press Leased Wire—Houston, Texas—Threats of further assaults on "those who offend the Ku Klux Klan" signed Number 3 Ku Klux Klan, were made today in a note addressed to the Houston Press.

The note which followed closely the attack on the Houston Press, was signed by E. H. Hobbs, lawyer, told of the assault on Hobbs and threatens two men in Houston public life whose acts are "not pleasing to the Ku Klux Klan."

Hope is expressed in the note that the warning through the newspapers will cause one of the men "to offer his resignation before Saturday."

MRS. PEETE SURPRISED BY JURY'S SENTENCE

By United Press Leased Wire—Los Angeles.—Attorneys representing Mrs. Louise L. Peete, convicted Saturday evening by a jury which recommended that she be sentenced to life imprisonment in San Quentin penitentiary for the murder of Jacob C. Denton, today considered steps to obtain a new trial for her.

Mrs. Peete today said she was not surprised at the verdict.

"Three days before the trial closed I knew the jury was against me—I felt it," she said.

"But I did not expect the jurors to make their sentence so drastic. From the time it was decided I was not to testify, I felt my cause was handicapped."

CLARK OPPOSES CHANGES IN DEMOCRATIC PARTY

By United Press Leased Wire—Washington.—Champ Clark, democratic leader of the house, Monday joined the forces of James M. Cox in an effort to prevent an immediate reorganization of the democratic party. Clark sharply criticized the move of Thomas B. Lov, Texas, McAdoo leader, for a meeting of democratic national committee in St. Louis.

"I am utterly opposed," Clark said, "to precipitating a fight over the chairmanship of the democratic national committee at the present time or at so early a date as Mr. Lov suggests."

TIM MURPHY DEFILES HE ROBBED MAILBAGS

By United Press Leased Wire—Chicago.—Timothy "Big Tim" Murphy, politician and labor leader, wanted in connection with the $100,000 Pullman, Ill., mail robbery, surrendered to Chief of Police Charles Fitzmorris here on Monday.

He denied implication in the robbery.

Sold Wife To Butcher; Now Wants Her Back

By United Press Leased Wire—Chicago.—Marie, 20-year-old wife of Eric Johnson, was sold to their butcher, Berger Peterson, for a vacant lot valued at $500 by her husband, she charged to police today.

The transaction was drawn up in legal phraseology by a Chicago attorney, she said.

Police unearthed the alleged "sale" when Johnson, in an attempt to retrieve his wife, went to an apartment where he was beaten, police said, by Gug Peterson, the butcher's brother.

The men were arrested for disorderly conduct.

Johnson told police that his wife had run away from Rockford, Ill., with the two Peterson brothers, Berger Peterson and Mrs. Johnson were later arrested by police during a raid on a hotel.

It was then that she told the story that Johnson agreed to relinquish all rights to her for a vacant lot in Rockford. All four are in jail.

OSHKOSH MAN HURT IN AUTO SMASHUP

E. F. Mumm Taken to Hospital After Collision This Afternoon.

E. F. Mumm, traveling salesman living at Oshkosh, was apparently seriously injured when a Ford sedan in which he was riding collided with a Reliance Motor company truck driven by Harvey Luebbon, at the corner of Washington and Drew-sts. about 2 o'clock Monday afternoon. E. R. Higgs, Oshkosh, owner of the machine, was only slightly injured.

Mumm was taken to St. Elizabeth hospital in C. L. Henderson's automobile. He was conscious, but the extent of his injuries could not be determined up to late hour. It is believed he has a chance to recover, however.

The sedan was struck with sufficient force to overturn it and shove it along in front of the truck. Mumm was driving the Ford and was taken out of the wrecked machine in what appeared to be a serious condition. Neither driver saw the other in time to avoid the collision.

FAULT OF U. S. IF WORLD GOES ARMED

By United Press Leased Wire—Washington.—"If an agreement is not reached for the limitation of armament and war-like expenditures, the fault will be that of America, as in former days, it was that of Germany," Republican House Leader Mondell today told the house naval affairs committee.

He and several other members of congress appeared to urge the calling of a disarmament conference.

"The fault will be ours," said Mondell, "because as we are the only great nation which could maintain enormous establishments on land and sea without bankruptcy or without being condemned to bear indefinitely today's frightful national debt, it is our duty to lead the way toward relief from a present and future burden of war-like expenditures which, irksome and oppressive to us, would be unbearable to other nations."

Mondell attacked Secretaries Daniels and Baker for submitting such large naval programs to congress, claiming that in foreign lands their statements were taken to mean that the United States favors huge armaments.

COEDS FIRED BECAUSE THEY LIKED MOONSHINE

By United Press Leased Wire—Madison.—Four University of Wisconsin coeds have been suspended since January 1 by university authorities for drinking.

Dean F. Louis Nardin admitted today.

Following the suspension of the girls and upon their revelations, District Attorney Lewis today began an investigation as to where the girls' escorts, all students, obtained the liquor. The district attorney declined to make any statement until the investigation had been completed.

The girls confessed to drinking moonshine liquor and wine of peppermint, authorities say.

REJECTED SUITOR SLAYS AGED IOWA POLITICIAN

By United Press Leased Wire—Dubuque, Ia.—Max Daley, 65, prominent democratic politician, was murdered here early Monday. The murderer attacked and perhaps fatally injured Mrs. Daley and Constance Fahney, a nurse who was caring for her.

All the victims were beaten with an iron bar. A man giving his name as G. D. Larue, alias John R. Brayne, a Chicago clerk, and said to come from the vicinity of Dubuque, was arrested today to obtain the aid of the president and Indiana senators to win her son's freedom.

Walker and Guy Nichols were accused of murdering Samuel Wolchak while robbing his stationery store in Brooklyn. Walker is to be electrocuted this week, probably Thursday. His mother lives in Evansville, Ind.

DISCUSSION OF SCHOOLS

The civic department of the Appleton Women's club will meet at 4 o'clock Wednesday afternoon in the vocational school. Dr. D. O. Kinsman will address the members on "Our System of Schools and Compulsory Education."

GERMANY MUST PAY OR FIGHT, FRENCH PLAN

Complete Dismemberment of Germany Is Threatened by French People.

WANT GERMANY RUINED

Lloyd-George's Speech Backs Paris Government in Its Attitude.

(By John De Grand)

By United Press Leased Wire—Paris.—Complete dismemberment of the German nation if she does not accept her punishment was threatened by France today.

"I will not move one millimetre from my position," Premier Briand declared. "Germany was guilty. Germany must pay."

French officials indicated there was serious pressure upon them to let Germany bluster and bluff over the reparations, then descend upon the former empire and exact the indemnity demanded by taking possession of German territory.

"There are many Frenchmen whose greatest desire is to see German cities in ruin just as our own cities were demolished by the German invasion," a French official declared.

"Nothing would please this element more than to see allied agreement on reparations torn to bits while a French army is sent into Germany to take possession of land and property to repay France for what she lost."

French officials admitted they were unable to determine now whether the uproar in Germany over the allied demands was a bluff or really the prelude to a situation which might justify the nation in unheating the sword.

High officials declared allied governments were declaring the possibility and that the proposed London conference never will be held if Germany continues her course.

Speeches of Premier Lloyd George at Birmingham, England, Saturday were seized upon here as bearing out this belief. It was pointed out that Lloyd George was confident of Germany's ability to pay and desired to see her forced to do so.

EGGS WERE TOO OLD; PAYS $1,000 FINE

By United Press Leased Wire—Madison.—The C. E. Blodgett and Sons company of Marshfield, one of the large cold storage concerns of the state, paid a fine of $1,000 in the circuit court at Stevens Point Monday for violation of the cold storage law.

Suit was filed by Attorney General William J. Morgan on Jan. 22 charging the company with storing eggs without marking withdrawal dates upon the cases. When the eggs were sold by Armour and company to the Wisconsin Cold Storage Co., it was said, there was nothing to indicate that the eggs had not been held in storage for a longer period than the law allows.

TEN MONTHS IN JAIL FOR SELLING LIQUOR

By United Press Leased Wire—Milwaukee—"Bob" Krokro, former well known downtown saloon-keeper, was sentenced to ten months in the house of correction and fined $4,250 by Federal Judge Geiger here Monday when he pleaded guilty to charges of violating liquor laws. Krokro, who recently sold his saloon and was indicted on 70 counts, drew the longest term of any of the more than 100 alleged liquor law violators by the federal grand jury here shortly before the holidays.

Seven other alleged members of the "lake shore whisky ring," sentenced to the house of correction, began serving their terms Monday.

EXHUME BODY TO SOLVE MADISON MURDER CASE

By United Press Leased Wire—Madison.—The first step in the investigation of the "yellow demon" death mystery was taken by the authorities on Monday when the body of Richard Scott, Lawrence, capitalist and Denver politician, was exhumed and removed to the laboratory of the University of Wisconsin where Dr. C. H. Bunting, pathologist, will make an examination to determine the cause of death.

The examination will determine whether Lawrence met death in a railroad accident or was murdered.

Mrs. Lawrence, widow, claims her husband was murdered and $500,000 in diamonds and securities taken.

MOTHER OF CONVICTED BOY APPEALS TO WILSON

By United Press Leased Wire—Ossining, New York.—Mrs. Anna Foster, mother of Jesse Walker, convicted murderer, went to Washington today to obtain the aid of the president and Indiana senators to win her son's freedom.

Walker and Guy Nichols were accused of murdering Samuel Wolchak while robbing his stationery store in Brooklyn. Walker is to be electrocuted this week, probably Thursday. His mother lives in Evansville, Ind.

Control Of Valley Iron Works Sold To Interests Headed By Ernst Mahler

Appleton's Largest Machine Shop Passes Into Hands of New Owner.

NEW PLANT IS PLANNED

Expansion Is Planned for Immediate Future—Peterson Is President.

Controlling interest in the Valley Iron works, Appleton's largest machine shop, was sold Monday morning by W. A. Fannon, Dr. E. A. Morse and Mrs. Bertha M. Peterson to a combination of business men headed by Ernst Mahler, general manager of the Kimberly-Clark Co. The transfer will be completed before night and reorganization of the company is to be started at once. In the reorganization it is probable that E. A. Peterson, now general manager of the Valley Iron works, will be elected president. Other details of the organizations have not been worked out.

Expansion of the plant is to be started at once and it is entirely possible that a new plant will be erected before the end of another year. The company will specialize in the manufacture of the Niagara beater, patented by Mr. Mahler, said to be the most successful type of papermill beater ever devised. The company has made several of these machines. Recently it entered into the paper machine construction field, building a large machine for the Johns-Manville Co. Another machine for the same firm is now being constructed. Other papermill machinery also is being built.

The Valley Iron works expanded wonderfully during the war. It had a large plant before the era of greatest prosperity but with the award of government contracts and the heavy demand for machinery for new papermills, the company was forced to enlarge its capacity by nearly 100 per cent. The new company, however, is contemplating erection of an entirely new plant.

Adequate financing of the venture is assured by the interests involved in the purchase. The new owners believe the plant has great possibilities and they are prepared to develop them.

A. E. F. SPEAKS FOR ITSELF--PERSHING

Army Commander Joins With Dawes in Spirited Defense of Army.

By United Press Leased Wire—Washington.—"The achievements of the American expeditionary forces speak for themselves."

This was the answer of General John J. Pershing to charges made against the American army in France before and by the war department investigating committees of the house.

Pershing joined with Brigadier General Charles G. Dawes, who recently denounced the investigating committee in such a vitriolic manner in resenting the charges made against the army.

Pershing's statements were in a letter to Representative Flood, Virginia, democratic member of the committee, who asked the general if he desired to appear and refute the charges made against the A. E. F.

In his letter, Pershing said:

"Having followed to some extent the proceedings of this committee, I am of the opinion that the charges and allegations, so far as they relate to the affairs of the American expeditionary forces, have been completely answered in each instance by the testimony of witnesses with an intimate knowledge of the facts."

"Moreover the achievements of the American expeditionary forces speak for themselves. The record of our armies overseas is so well known throughout the country that it would seem unnecessary further to consume the time of the committee."

DIES TO PROVE HE CAN TALK FROM HIS GRAVE

By United Press Leased Wire—Detroit.—In an attempt to prove that the living can communicate with the dead, T. Lynn Bradford, lecturer and writer, gave his life.

Somewhere in Detroit today there is a girl whom Bradford promised to talk to after death.

Bradford was found dead in his rooming house, a suicide. Beside his body lay several words on spiritualism.

"Can the dead communicate with the living?" was the title of a typewritten manuscript which had not been finished.

According to his friends, Bradford recently inserted an advertisement in Detroit papers asking for anyone interested in spiritualism to call and see him. A girl answered and visited the rooming house. It is believed it is this girl with whom Bradford wished to talk from his grave.

Bradford was a graduate of a Chicago school of oratory. He claimed Detroit as his home. No relatives have been found.

MEXICO CITY IN GRIP OF REIGN OF TERROR

By United Press Leased Wire—Mexico City, Mex.—Two bomb explosions Sunday inaugurated what police believed to be an attempt at a reign of terror. Officers connected the demonstrations with an influx of foreign radicals gathering here for a meeting Feb. 14. Several American agitators were said to be among the outsiders.

The first violence was directed against Dr. Jose Maria Y. del Rio, a rich bishop of Mexico. A bomb was exploded in the doorway of the palace, doing damage only to the building. Later another charge was exploded near the residence of a manufacturer who recently discharged a number of workmen. Considerable damage was done the building.

BIG PROFITS MAKE POOR MAN POORER

Middleman's "Tax" Is Unwarranted, Comptroller Williams Declares.

By United Press Leased Wire—Washington, D. C.—A "tax" in the form of middlemen's profits, "in many cases unwarranted and inexcusable," is preventing the consumer from benefiting from the tremendous decline in prices of raw materials, Comptroller of the Currency John Skilton Williams, declared in his annual report today.

Williams attacked iron, steel and coal men as trying to maintain excessive prices for their products, thus depriving a return to normal prices and conditions.

"By closing down mills and mines," Williams said, "the output of steel and iron was reduced approximately one fourth in the year following the armistice. While the profits of steel manufacturers and coal operators were swollen, the country became poorer from the lack of production brought about by the unnecessary closing down of mills and mines and the unnecessary idleness of labor."

"Neither this country nor foreign countries can afford to continue to pay the inflated prices which steel and iron manufacturers continue to demand for their products."

A shrinkage of values estimated at between twelve and eighteen millions of dollars has taken place in the last year, the report continued. Some prices have hit the 1914 level and some have gone below, Williams said.

WOULD SHORTEN HOURS TO GIVE MORE WORK

By United Press Leased Wire—Chicago.—A shortening of hours of all workers was favored here today by the Chicago Federation of Labor as a means of furnishing employment to thousands of idle men and women.

A meeting of representatives of all branches of the federation was called for Feb. 27 to consider urging industries to adopt the idea. It is proposed to divide jobs so that all members of the federation will have work.

At a meeting of the federation yesterday, the unemployment situation was fully discussed.

BANDITS FORCE BANKER TO OPEN DOOR OF SAFE

By United Press Leased Wire—O'Neill, Neb.—Six bandits accosted H. R. Browning, assistant cashier of the Citizens' State bank at Orchard, Neb., near here, as he was returning from a social function at 7 o'clock Monday.

They forced him to open the door of the bank, bound and gagged him, blew the safe and escaped with $2,000 in cash and $10,000 in liberty bonds.

NEW PLAN TO GET RID OF STOCKYARDS

Armour and Swift Would Sell Their Holdings Through Sales Agents.

By United Press Leased Wire—Washington.—The Armour and Swift packing companies Monday proposed to the supreme court of the District of Columbia a new plan for disposal of the interests in stockyards in accordance with the agreement entered into with the government.

The plan provides that the ten principal stockyards are to be disposed of through sales agents who are named in the petition to the court. Most of them are trust companies.

Pending complete disposal of the stock, the court is to appoint trustees who will have power of attorney and power to vote any stock remaining in the hands of the sales agents.

The packers advised the court that in this manner they hope to completely divorce themselves of their stockyard holdings.

The ten yards involved in this proposal are Sioux City, Ia., St. Paul, St. Joseph, Denver, Chicago, Ft. Worth, Kansas City, St. Louis, Omaha and Louisville.

GREAT LAKES STATES TO GET MILITARY HOSPITAL

Washington.—The house on Monday passed the bill providing additional hospital facilities for shell shock and submarine war victims. The vote was 239 to 6.

The measure authorizes the secretary of the treasury to construct five new hospitals at a cost of $13,000,000. One of the hospitals is to be located in each of the following regions: Central Atlantic, Great Lakes, central southwest, Rocky mountain states, southern California.

STATE TYPE SETTERS CALL FOR 44-HOUR WEEK

Fond du Lac.—Resolutions calling for a 44-hour week beginning Mar. 1, were adopted by the Wisconsin Typographical union state conference here Sunday.

The conference also endorsed an eight-hour day for the state's printing plant.

CALIFORNIA VOLCANO IS IN ERUPTION AGAIN

Redding, Calif.—Mt. Lassen, California's live volcano, was in eruption today for the second time in 24 hours. The eruption started at 2 a. m. and lasted about two hours.

While many people are in the area, the volcano has been quiet for a short time yesterday.

FAIR DIVISION OF TRADE AREAS IS A WAY TO AVERT WAR

Dr. Arnold B. Hall Discusses World Scramble for Larger Markets.

U. S. CAN'T STAND ALONE

America Must Work With Other Nations in Restoration of Peace.

Essentials of a program by which war may be avoided in the future by the nations of the world were explained by Dr. Arnold B. Hall, Madison, in the closing address of the People's Forum in Lawrence, Memorial chapel Sunday evening on "Economic Imperialism and American Foreign Policy." National affairs in America and other large nations have been controlled by the desire for commercial supremacy, he said, causing all sentiment to be thrown aside for the desire to muster armies and fight.

Nations that pass from agricultural to industrial pursuits produce more goods than they consume. They seek markets for surplus products and to do so desire adequate sources of raw material. The result is a scramble for foreign trade. America and several other nations are building so large a merchant marine that if the program is kept up for a few years some country's ships will be idle. All this tends to make nations alert to secure their share of trade. They will wage war if they see their opportunities failing.

Should Cooperate

Pointing to the lesson learned by American radicals in dividing up the business so all roads could prosper rather than engaging in cut-throat competition, Dr. Hall said the same must be true of nations. Each should be assured its fair share of trade. It must be a choice of either aggression or accommodation, or a choice of conquest or cooperation. There must be special privilege for some and fair opportunity for all.

The speaker quoted from one conference of nations after another showing how the results of victory had been disregarded and a settlement made upon a basis of fairness, despite protests of the victorious nation. He said the same would have been true if Germany had granted England's request for two weeks in which to call a conference of European nations when the World war broke out. He showed how impossible it was for United States to isolate herself and how some kind of international organization must be started, no matter how imperfect it might be at the start. The world must put one foot forward, and develop a new organization after the idea was under way.

1,000 Hear Address

About 1,000 people were present at the closing Forum meeting. Dr. Samuel Platts acted as chairman and introduced Dr. Hall. Prayer was offered by Dr. I. B. Wood, pastor of the First Methodist church. Two organ numbers were rendered by Miss Doris Brenner and two solos and an encore were sung by Miss Lily Sindahl, Neenah. A brief business session closed the meeting, in which next year's committee was elected.

Dr. Hall said he was not wading the problem of international organization in presenting his subject. He referred to movements which had attempted to prevent war but had failed. One was the Christian movement. It declared war un-Christianlike. The appeal was never any more than emotional and had no effect when nations arose in arms. The humanitarian movement was also emotional, he said, but all thoughts of pacifism disappeared when patriotic emotion and the emotion of war possessed the nations.

Later came the scientific peace effort, in which nations are attempting to analyze international life and the causes of war. This plan was not based on emotion. It has been found that most of the wars of the last century had their cause in economic situations; that national affairs were con-

KAUKAUNA PEOPLE INJURED IN WRECK

Mr. and Mrs. William Johnson Collide With Car Driven by A. W. Priest.

Mr. and Mrs. William Johnson, Kaukauna, are in St. Elizabeth hospital recovering from injuries which they received when their automobile collided with a car driven by A. W. Priest, Appleton, on the Little Chute road Saturday afternoon. Mr. Johnson was injured about the side and Mrs. Johnson received a severe cut on her face. They expect to leave the hospital by the end of this week. Mr. Priest escaped injury and his car was not seriously damaged. James Brown, Kaukauna, who was in the Johnson car, also escaped injury.

The accident occurred when Mr. Priest, who was driving to Kaukauna, turned out to pass a truck going in the same direction. He did not see the Johnson car until it was too late to stop and they collided, the Appleton car brushing Mr. Johnson's machine in the ditch and overturning it. Mr. Priest stopped at once and assisted in caring for the injured persons. The Johnson car was badly wrecked.

Controlled by economic imperialism, America reached this point in 1896, finding it necessary to find a market for manufactured products.

Somebody Will Lose

By way of illustration of how such a condition brings war, Dr. Hall explained that 65 per cent of the people of the British Isles live upon the profits of overseas commerce. The present building program will bring more ships than goods and some nation will lose commerce.

"Which nation shall it be?" Dr. Hall asked. "Will it be America, England, France or some other? None of these nations will permit its commerce to be cut off if they can help it. No nation will permit its source of power to be cut off. It will wage war first. The same would be true if any nation tried to monopolize trade."

Cannot Stand Alone

Speaking of the League of Nations controversy, the mentor told that Senator Borah's attitude six weeks ago as advocating that United States withdraw and isolate herself. Now he insists that America step in and protect her own interests, because England and France appear to be dividing up the commerce of the world between them. With American commerce on every sea and American trading in every port, America must not and cannot stand alone, he said. She must stand with unheated sword or demand an equitable distribution of trade by the nations of the world.

The World was to be a Sunday school picnic compared to the next war, Dr. Hall said. He told of poison gas, invented by the United States and ready for use when the armistice was signed, which was of sufficient power to wipe out a city of 100,000 people with the quantity which could be carried in an airship. Experiments had also been going on in Washington on germ propagation and the nation was ready to spread bubonic plague or some other deadly disease all through enemy nations. The next war will be one of extermination. Military leaders of the country realized this and were demanding reduction of armaments.

The speaker closed with an eloquent plea for some kind of association.

National peace appears to have been given to the merchandising course at Appleton Vocational school. An inquiry was received by the chamber of commerce from the Emporium, one of San Francisco's largest department stores, seeking details about the course, the methods used and the subjects treated. Secretary Corbett is replying to the request with a full description of the course.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred E. Hulbert of Fall River, are visiting relatives here.

Many Interesting Features Included in the Annual Program Tonight.

Reservations have been made for 160 persons at the annual banquet of Outagamie County Fish and Game Protective association in Odd Fellow hall Monday evening. The attendance is expected to break all the association's records.

A new feature in the program was announced Monday morning. Five minute addresses are to be delivered by juvenile, middle aged and senior members of the association. The juveniles will be represented by Mark Catlin, Jr., middle aged men by G. L. Chamberlain and the seniors by James McCabe.

Other speakers include Judge Owen of Eau Claire, Thomas O'Neill of Sheboygan Falls, Attorney Mark Catlin of Appleton, Judge Edgar V. Werner of Shawano, Attorney A. H. Krugmeyer of Appleton. There probably will be a few other short addresses.

The first 50 persons in the banquet hall will share in the distribution of $20 worth of artificial bait. The doors open at 6:30 and the banquet is to begin at 7 o'clock.

Election of officers and transaction of other business will precede the program.

tion of nations, showing how each international conference over disputes had brought a fair and effective settlement without war. He showed how United States could not remain out of such an organization; that she could not isolate herself and protect her commerce. A beginning must be made somewhere, he said. The proposed League of Nations is not perfect, but it is a step in the right direction. He believed the nations of the world are fair enough to make revisions.

FRISCO WANTS TO KNOW ABOUT SALES COURSE

National peace appears to have been given to the merchandising course at Appleton Vocational school. An inquiry was received by the chamber of commerce from the Emporium, one of San Francisco's largest department stores, seeking details about the course, the methods used and the subjects treated. Secretary Corbett is replying to the request with a full description of the course.

STOP ITCHING ECZEMA

Penetrating, Antiseptic Zemo Will Help You

Never mind how often you have tried and failed, you can stop burning itching eczema quickly by applying Zemo furnished by any druggist for 35c. Extra large bottle, $1.00. Healing begins the moment Zemo is applied. In a short time usually every trace of eczema, tetter, pimples, rash, blackheads and similar skin diseases will be removed. For clearing the skin and making it vigorously healthy, always use Zemo, the penetrating, antiseptic liquid. It is not greasy, saline and it doesn't stain. When others fail it is the one dependable treatment for skin troubles of all kinds.

PREPARING FOR CATHOLIC DRIVE

Stephen Balliet Elected Chairman of Outagamie County Deanery.

Stephen Balliet was elected by chairman of the Outagamie county deanery of the Green Bay Catholic diocese at a meeting of deanery representatives from almost every parish in the county in Columbia hall Sunday afternoon. The Rev. W. J. Fitzmaurice, newly appointed dean, was in charge.

Initial steps were taken for the spring financial campaign to raise $11,000.00 for Catholic institutions in the Green Bay diocese. A deanery chairman of the 14 deaneries in the diocese is to be appointed by the bishop and lay chairman. A plan of campaign is to be outlined and the county organization so the churches can raise their proportionate share. The three main objects of support in the diocese are the orphan home, and the aged women's home; the diocese also plans to raise its proportionate share for support of the Catholic seminary.

A total of $5,000.00 is to be raised in Wisconsin by the four dioceses, and $1,000.00 is allotted to the Green Bay division. Detailed plans are to be announced as soon as the county organizations and the campaign procedure are perfected.

of Wisconsin, in the First ward school Monday evening. Members of school boards and school faculties also have been invited.

Mr. O'Shea will speak on "Youth in Present-day American Life." This lecture is considered one of the most interesting in his repertoire. He has consented to answer questions after the address.

No admission will be charged. The meeting is to begin at 7:45 o'clock, probably preceded by a brief business session.

Mr. O'Shea ranks among the most noted educational experts in the country and has delivered addresses before large gatherings of educators.

Archle Klapp left Sunday evening on a business trip to St. Paul, Minn., Omaha, Neb., and Des Moines, Iowa.

WEDNESDAY IS FIRST DAY OF LENTEN SEASON

Dances, card parties and other events in Appleton's social whirl will be laid aside on Wednesday, which is the first day of lent. Special services will be held at many Appleton churches in observance of Ash Wednesday.

Lent starts somewhat earlier than usual this year, because Easter comes in March instead of April. It occurs March 27.

IMPORTANT BUSINESS BEFORE LEGION TONIGHT

A large attendance is expected at the monthly meeting of Oney Johnston post of the American Legion at Elk hall Monday evening. New officers are to be elected and bylaws will be adopted.

The post has extensive plans for coming meetings, including perhaps a mock trial, May ball and other activities. Some of these suggestions probably will be presented at Monday night's meeting. Lunch and singing will be the closing feature.

Mrs. W. M. Cameron of DePere, visited relatives here Sunday.

E. L. Cochrane of New London, was an Appleton visitor Sunday.

P. O. BUSINESS NEARS $100,000

Substantial Gains Are Shown in Most Departments for Last Quarter.

Business transacted by the Appleton postoffice during 1920 almost reached the $100,000 mark and was the largest on record. The total receipts have grown an average of 10 per cent each year for the last four years. Almost all departments show a gain for the closing quarter of 1920.

The actual receipts for the year 1920 were $99,819.59. This is 40 per cent more than in 1916, when the receipts were $71,173.11.

Comparisons for the closing quarters of 1919 and 1920 show that there has been a remarkable growth in the number of insured parcel post packages transmitted, with an increase of approximately 4,000. The office insured about 2,000 more Christmas parcels last Christmas than in 1919.

The total number of insured parcels received for mailing was:

	1919	1920
October	1,337	1,977
November	1,160	2,218
December	4,103	6,077

Total 6,600 10,270

There was also a substantial gain in the amount of registered mail received for mailing. Each month showed an increase, with about 500 more letters handled in 1920 than in 1919. The count for the quarter has passed the 4,000 mark, as the total handled for 1920 was 4,036.

Here are the comparative figures:

	1919	1920
October	1,091	1,151
November	1,079	1,265
December	1,340	1,618

Totals 3,510 4,036

The money division increased its outgoing business by more than 1,000 orders in the last quarter of 1920 as compared with 1919. The total receipts for this quarter in 1919 were $65,428.59; in 1920, $75,958.25, a gain of $10,529.66. The number of orders cashed showed a decrease of more than 300 for the quarter, and a total of $8,000 less was paid out. The 1920 withdrawal of money was $54,456.56; 1919, $62,183.44. The foreign money order business dwindled about half. Fifty-two were issued in 1919 for $354.75, and 29 in 1920 for $233.61.

The comparisons are:

	1919	1920
October	2,442	2,655
November	2,282	2,722
December	2,599	3,004

October	1,703	1,562
November	1,770	1,672
December	1,980	1,870

Totals 5,453 5,104

An increase was also shown in the amount of collect-on-delivery parcels handled. The office sent out 453 during October, November and December, 1919, and 726 during the same period in 1920.

Delicious Home Cooking at Woman's Club Cafeteria Supper, Tuesday, Feb. 8, 5:30 to 7:30 P. M. at Elks Club. Card games begin at 2:30. Admission for cards 25c. All welcome.

More than 20 women have joined the auxiliary but it is expected at least 50 will go in as charter members before the charter is closed. Work in the order will be secret and the officers will initiate additional candidates at the meeting March 5.

Wives, mothers, sisters and daughters of U. C. T. members are eligible. The regular meetings of the auxiliary will be when the men meet. Much interest is being manifested by the women and they expect to build up a strong order. Extensive plans will be made for social affairs of various kinds. The organization will be financed entirely by the women.

W. L. Winslow of Hortonville, who has been logging for the Menasha Woodware company for the last 15 years, says in Appleton on business Friday he said his company's plant is closed down but that did not interfere with his department. At present he is getting out maple, basswood and pine logs near Denmark in Brown county, at Clayton in Winnebago county and also near North Milwaukee and has already cut over a million feet. The absence of snow has done away with hauling operations temporarily. Mr. Winslow says there is still quite a little timber in this part of the state but that it is rapidly disappearing.

MRS. SYLVIA FOSTER, of Buffalo, N. Y., who says she wishes she could go into every home and tell how Tanlac completely restored her health after she had lost all hope of ever being well again.

"They had given up all hope of my life and I only wish I had time to go to every home and tell every sick person about this grand medicine."

"A year ago last January I had a severe attack of influenza which left me in a terribly weakened condition and my appetite was so poor that I ate little more than enough to keep body and soul together."

"My heart palpitated so dreadfully at times that it seemed like it had stopped altogether and I would think my time had come. I was so weak that I couldn't go up the steps without holding to the railing. It was impossible for me to do any housework. I was so nervous that I couldn't drink my tea or coffee without spilling it."

"My sleep was restless and broken and I would have smothering spells and would just have to get up and go to the window so I could breathe."

"I finally started taking Tanlac on the advice of a friend and before I had finished taking the second bottle my neighbors could tell I was improving right along. Well, it has only taken five bottles to restore my health completely."

"My appetite is just splendid now, my nerves are strong and steady, my housework is a real pleasure and I can sleep like a child at night. In fact, I never felt better in my life than I do now."

The above remarkable statement was made by Mrs. Sylvia Foster, of 206 S. Davidson St., Buffalo, N. Y., a well-known and highly respected resident of that city.

Tanlac is sold in Appleton by John E. Voigt; F. O. Brown, Shiocton; Dr. J. M. Sattler, Bear Creek; H. E. Abend, Dale; R. E. Lowell, Little Chute, adv.

HOME TALENT PLAY PLEASES AUDIENCE

A capacity audience witnessed the presentation of "An Old-Fashioned Mother" by young people of St. Joseph church in St. Joseph hall Sunday evening. The play is to be repeated Monday evening.

Rehearsals were conducted under the direction of Mike Corcoran and the production showed the value of several weeks of training. The play was produced under the auspices of St. Aloysius Young Men's society, assisted by young ladies of the congregation. The village choir, consisting of the Misses Sylvia Thelan, Iva Locksmith, Cecil Schwab and Helen Blik, sang several songs. Music was furnished by the Imperial Mandolin club of St. Aloysius society orchestra.

The MARCH DELINEATORS and PATTERNS are now in PETTIBONE'S PATTERN DEPT.

AMERICA AND JAPAN
The Japanese think we do not like them, and profess to be worried about it. The Japanese are wrong. The American people as a whole have no personal grievance against them. We seek no trouble with Japan. We did not like the Shantung settlement and the Korean massacres are revolting to us because of their barbarity. However, we do not propose to meddle in the business, so long as the American flag and American interests are protected. Any more than we propose to meddle in the British government of India or misgovernment of Ireland. We have troubles of our own.

So long as the Japanese do not become a distinct world menace, the people of the United States will have no special interest in them or their doings. If the attitude of the whole country toward Japan could be averaged and presented in summary it would probably turn out to be one, not of "watchful waiting," but simply of waiting. It is waiting to see what the Japanese do in their new-won position in world affairs. Actually the fate of Japanese-American relations is in the hands of the Japanese themselves.

The Japanese should understand that among individuals the world-menace question is not altogether settled. The reason that many Americans are suspicious of the objects of Japan, or at least one reason, is that she remains the last considerable dynastic empire in the world. Americans are naturally suspicious of empires and dynasties. They feel that emperors have to make aggressive wars every once in a while, and well-planned and successful ones, if they are to retain their powers. From the American point of view the present democratic movement in Japan is the most hopeful sign upon the horizon. We do not as a people accuse or suspect the ruling dynasty of plotting a war of aggression. We simply recognize the fact that there are tendencies and forces which turn monarchical government in this direction.

All attempts to stamper public opinion in this country against Japan, whether by newspapers or politicians, are deplorable and dangerous. The prospect, even the possibility, of war with Japan is faint and a long way off. Even if it should occur prematurely we would be able to take care of ourselves. We ought to realize that there is intelligence and statesmanship in Japan, and that, taken in conjunction with the American disposition to be fair and reasonable and unselfish, it constitutes a formidable barrier against an appeal to arms over any cause that it now conceivable.

RECOGNITION OF RUSSIA
Certain members of congress and others who are advocating the recognition of the soviet government in Russia, in order that the United States may trade with that country—or rather in order to put the government back of such trading—might learn something from the opinion of John Spargo, socialist author. Mr. Spargo went to Russia with a deputation which included another well-known socialist, and he went for the purpose of learning what he could about the soviet government. His judgment is that "so long as the bolsheviks remain in power and maintain their present policy there can be no security for foreign capital invested in Russia."
"It is absolutely impossible for American business men to rely on the honesty of its leaders in their dealings with the soviet government," Mr. Spargo told a committee of the senate. "The reason why the bolsheviks are so eager to obtain recognition, that it inspires their incessant and costly propaganda, is itself a sufficient reason for denying that recognition." If Mr. Spargo went to Russia with any prejudice it was in favor of the soviet principles, but he saw enough in Russia to convince him of the utter dishonesty of the men in control of the soviet government. In spite of the judgment of men who know the facts regarding Russia there is some agitation in this country for recognition of the existing government there. It is largely a mercenary spirit combined with a certain sympathy for the Russian people. It is clear, however, that the time is not ripe for such a step and that it would be most unwise from both a political and economic standpoint.

AMERICAN ILLITERACY
Many persons will be surprised to learn that there are eight nations with less illiteracy in proportion to population than the United States, which ranks ninth. Such is the showing of the house committee on education which in its report to congress recommends the passage of the Smith-Towner bill to establish a federal department of education and grant federal aid to the states to support elementary schools. It seems that Pennsylvania, for example, has 418,000 illiterates; New York 406,000; Illinois, 169,000; and Ohio, 124,000. The figures for northern states are to be partly accounted for by the admission of many illiterate immigrants before the literacy test was provided. Georgia is given 389,000 illiterates; Alabama, 352,000; Louisiana, 352,000; and Mississippi, 290,000. This greater proportionate illiteracy for the less densely populated south is partly due to the fact that the bulk of negro population is found in that section.

Extensive illiteracy cannot be regarded with equanimity by the people of the United States. We know that illiteracy is not only impaired national efficiency but is fertile soil for bolshevism, I. W. W.-ism, lawlessness and anti-American movements. Our educational development has not kept pace with the demands upon its facilities and extension. One of the great needs of the day is to bring our schools throughout the country up to a period of high efficiency and more complete service in affording popular education and in inculcating sound Americanism. The illiteracy figures submitted to the house cannot fail to impress everyone with the importance of a progressive school program as a national policy. The promotion of this policy would be best insured by making education a branch of federal administration.

HONORING THE HEROIC DEAD
General Pershing asks congress to bring the body of an unidentified hero back from the grave where it lies in the fields of France. England did as much for her unknown dead. The body of an unidentified British soldier was carried back to British soil, the king mingled with the lowliest of rank to pay tribute to the memory of all Britain's war dead.

America can do no less for her unknown heroes. Two burial spots are proposed, one in the tomb built under the rotunda of the capitol for the body of George Washington, and which was not used, and the other in the national cemetery at Arlington, where countless numbers of mounds mark graves of war dead.

There is much to be said in favor of either place. But the thing to do is to do it, to pay this tribute to all of the unknown dead over there. It would be a fitting time that this should be done upon the coming Memorial day. By congressional action now May 30 may be the day.

TODAY'S POEM
(By Edmund Vance Cooke)
THE SLUGGARD
By Isaac Watts
"Tis the voice of a sluggard; I heard him complain,
"You have waked me too soon; I must slumber again."
As the door on its hinges, so he in his bed
Turns his side, and his shoulders, and his heavy head.
"A little more sleep, and a little more slumber";
Thus he wastes half his days, and his hours without number.
And when he gets up, he sits folding his hands
Or walks about sauntering, or trifling he stands.
I passed by his garden, and saw the wild briar
The thorn and the thistle grow broader and higher;
The clothes that hang on him are turning to rag;
And his money still wastes till he starves or he begs.
I made him a vest, still hoping to find
That he took better care for improving his mind;
He told me his dreams talked of eating and drinking,
But he scarce reads his Bible, and never loved thinking.
Said I then to my heart, "Here's a lesson for me:
That man's but a picture of what I might be;
But thanks to my friends for their care in my breeding,
Who taught me betimes to love working and reading."

EARACHE
When I was a kid I had my share of earaches. The almanacs didn't play up earaches very much, so nobody thought much about it. Even at the age of, if I recollect though I can't say I do, six months or so I had a naturally inquisitive disposition and conducted researches or rather instituted studies, some of which are not yet completed. I found out that time a very good remedy for earache, which I now offer for the first time. It consisted of disphreps, which is medicated for a great, and I produced the sweating by absorbing a whole lot of oxygen in a short space of time and a warm room or in warm clothing—I played as hard as I could and presently found relief from the earache. I do not prescribe vigorous exercise as a sure cure for earache, but I offer the discovery for what it may be worth.

I do prescribe a hot mustard footbath administered in bed as the best available remedy for acute earache. The pain of acute earache is the pain of congestion and inflammation. There is no acute earache without inflammation in the ear. The effect of the H. M. F. B. is to equalize the distribution of blood, and this naturally relieves the congestion or tension of blood in the ear.

A critic who evidently disliked this suggestion when I made it some time ago, said, "I know whether it is or not. If it would relieve earache, a hot mustard ear bath would relieve footache, and I had to admit that the idea seemed feasible enough when one considered the length of the critic's ears."

The next best remedy for acute earache is prolonged irrigation of the ear canal with either plain water or water containing a tablespoonful of salt and a tablespoonful of citrate of soda to the quart or an equal amount of boric acid to the quart. The water should be as warm as bearable and the duration of the irrigation cannot be too great.

Never drop any oil of whatever character into the ear canal for any purpose except to smother an invading insect.

Medicinal alcoholic or watery solutions may be placed in the ear canal. For acute earache perhaps a small twist of absorbent cotton or a small wick of gauze soaked in hot glycerin may be gently twisted, not forced, deeply into the canal, and changed every half hour or so.

There is no doubt that prompt and thorough treatment after the foregoing method not only relieves the earache but in many cases aborts or prevents serious middle ear inflammation.

More heat in some dry form may soothe the pain, but there is probably nothing so good as the hot mustard footbath given to the patient in bed, for earache or any beginning ear, nose, throat or bronchial inflammation.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS
That Twin Yarn
I am one of twin girls, aged 25, recently married. A friend has told me that as a rule one of twins is weaker than the other, and that one of girl twins can never bear children. I shall appreciate your advice as to whether my informant is correct. (R. C. A.)
ANSWER—Take any two individuals, whether related or not; you will find almost invariably that one is weaker than the other. So far, your friend unwittingly tells the truth. As for twins bearing children, they are quite as likely to have children as any other women.

Locomotor Ataxia
What is the cause of locomotor ataxia? I ask this because a friend of mine persists in the assertion that there is only one cause, namely: syphilis. I don't believe it, but she claims to have been informed from two good sources. (E. W. M.)
ANSWER—Late effects of syphilis contracted years before must be admitted the usual cause of locomotor ataxia. But remember, many innocent persons have syphilis. Then, too, there is no reason why some cases of locomotor ataxia should not be the result of other infections or other causes than syphilis. In fact, in about one-tenth of all cases of locomotor ataxia all tests for syphilis are negative, and there is no evidence that the patient has ever had syphilis.

Chronic Appendicitis
Kindly advise me what is the proper food to eat when one has chronic appendicitis. Do you think that with the proper care of the stomach one could cure it without operation? (R. D.)
ANSWER—I know of no diet which has any influence on chronic appendicitis. No cure short of operation is to be expected, regardless of diet or care of the stomach. Chronic appendicitis does not necessarily call for operation. It depends on your own feeling—does it give you trouble enough or impair your efficiency or health enough to make it worth while to undergo an operation which, wherever it may be done or by whatever surgeon, is always a venture, because neither X-ray evidence nor clinical diagnosis of chronic appendicitis can be considered conclusive. Still and all, if I thought I had chronic appendicitis I'd have the operation.

Put The Desert To Work
By Frederic J. Haskin
Washington, D. C.—There are over two million acres of desert and unproductive land in five western states, which are at present of practically no value to anyone. This land not only produces neither food nor taxes, but it is also a hindrance to the railroads which are forced to cross the desert wastes between East and West without gaining either freight or passengers.
At the same time there are in those regions great streams, which are almost as useless as the deserts. Some of them irrigate little patches here and there, but most of their waters go to waste, and all of the great power which those waters gather in their descent from the mountains goes to waste.
Now this country is suffering from too much money, from overproduction, and from consequent unemployment. And the number of unemployed is being constantly swollen by immigrants.
Why not let the United States government gather these idle men and put them to work damming these streams, capturing their power, irrigating the waste lands, making farms for the men who are out of work?
This question former Secretary of the Interior Franklin K. Lane puts to the American people. Mr. Lane, since his retirement from the cabinet, has been the vice president of an oil company. But he has by no means renounced that interest in the development of the public domain which brought him into the cabinet. He urged a systematic reclamation of the arid lands of the West as a means of providing returning soldiers with farms. A complete and detailed plan was offered congress, but congress was too busy to attend to it. Now Secretary Lane points out again the great opportunity that is waiting in the west, and how it may be taken advantage of in such a way as to relieve the stress of threatened hard times.
What he offers is again a complete and well-considered plan. The objection will be offered that a people overburdened by taxes resulting from a great war is not in a position to undertake an enormous public work, whatever its value. Mr. Lane replies that this work can be financed by a tax-free bond issue, with the farm-lands and the power which the project will produce as a security.
Lane Offers Complete Plan
Mr. Lane says that anybody can figure the advantages of a reclamation project, because the proposition is so clear and simple. Here are one million acres of land, a little owned by individuals, some by the states, some by Indian reservations, most by the United States, and some by the three railroads that run through the desert country. Taken as a whole the land is worth five to fifty cents an acre as it is now.
Practical engineers, skilled at this kind of work, have estimated conservatively that they can build three dams and power plants on the Colorado river, which runs through this country, and make available enough water to irrigate all of this desert million acres, and at the same time produce over one million horsepower in electrical energy. The cost of the whole operation is estimated at from fifty to eighty million dollars.
Because of the many different interests involved, Mr. Lane does not feel that this could be accomplished by private enterprise. He says that it is essentially a public work, and that is where his bond issue plan comes in. The railroads and the municipalities near the desert are in the market for all the power as soon as developed. The Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railroad has proved the immense advantages of using electrical power in the propulsion of its trains. The results are known to the officials of all railroads that cross the desert lands. They would be poor business men not to buy all the hydro-electric energy they can use. They want to do so.

Mr. Lane feels sure that there could be made a general bond, covering the security of the improved land at about fifty dollars an acre (about one-fourth the current price of fair irrigated land) and the contracts of the proposed power users, making a bond something like the present farm loan bonds. As in the case of the farm loan bonds the national government would add its backing and endorsement. The bonds should be free from taxation because they are to be used to create taxable property and for the public good.
With the present effort to reduce the expenses of national government, this plan would not conflict, because these bonds would go at once on the open market for government securities. Being of the highest security and tax free, they will get a good price at once. It is to be remembered also that in making these bonds tax free, the government will be a large beneficiary, because the proceeds of these bonds are not to be used for government tax free expenditures, but are going at once to create industries subject to all Federal and state taxes.

A Bond Issue
While Mr. Lane was secretary of the interior he had a conference with some of the largest bankers and bond dealers in the country to ascertain their views on his project of providing farms for the returned soldiers. These distributors of securities told Mr. Lane that a half million dollars worth of tax free bonds, paying 8 1/2 per cent, could be absorbed at once. Mr. Lane thinks this equally true of the reclamation project bonds on the plan he has outlined.
Mr. Lane points to the Roosevelt dam and the resulting irrigation of nearly two hundred thousand acres of land, besides the production of over 200,000 horsepower in electrical energy. The farmer is now paying less than four dollars per acre per year for the water he uses on his land and he has water when he wants it. The city of Phoenix and its people are getting cheap electric light and power and so are the smaller cities throughout the region. And the result of these successful workings is that the whole undertaking will be fully paid for by these earnings before it is all due, and that thereafter the farmer will get his water for irrigation free, because the power revenue will be more than enough to meet all the operation expenses and replacements.

Before the water came to them the lands that now receive water from the Roosevelt dam were mostly worthless desert. Now they are valued at from two hundred dollars per acre upward. Under the cotton-growing excitement last year some of the Salt River farms sold above seven hundred dollars per acre.
"If the only purpose of developing these lands was to add to our arable territory, and to increase the wealth and productivity of the United States, it would still be a splendid business for the government," says Mr. Lane. "But it means also that thousands of citizens will be made independent workers, contributing handsomely to the general welfare, without any cost to the national government. It would seem to be our imperative duty to get started at once and get some of the idlers out of the cities to work on these projects."

Q. Where are the Jumbo peanuts grown? F. R.
A. The Virginia Ranch and Virginia Runner varieties of peanuts produce the bulk of the large-podded, or Jumbo, peanuts, and are grown most successfully in southeastern Virginia, and northeastern North Carolina.
Q. What percentage of deaths from tuberculosis is caused by tuberculosis of the lungs? M. K. W.
A. Ninety per cent of all deaths from tuberculosis is due to the disease of the lungs.
Q. What is the total coal unmined in the world? D. V. H.
A. It is estimated that the total coal reserves of the world amount to 7,460,000,000 tons, of which 542,100,000,000 is anthracite.
Q. Did Haym Salomon lend any money to this country, and if so was it ever paid back? T. T. E.
A. Haym Salomon, an American patriot, born in Poland, descended from Portuguese-Jewish stock, was associated with Robert Morris in the financing of the American Revolution. He loaned Morris $500,000 of his own money, $400,000 of which had not been repaid at the time of his death. He also supplied funds to Jefferson, Madison, Randolph, and other patriot leaders. Within the last few years there has been an effort made to establish national university "to his memory," using therefore part of the interest which has accumulated on the debt which is still owed to Salomon.
Q. In the State of Utah, can a man have more than one wife? V. V.
A. The constitution of the State of Utah prohibits polygamy.
Q. Was Julius Caesar before or after Christ, and did he make the calendar? E. H.
A. Julius Caesar was born about 100 years before Christ, and died 44 years before Christ. He invented the calendar which was in common use until revised by Pope Gregory. The division became effective in the United States and Great Britain in 1752.
Q. Are there any insects that are the natural enemies of bedbugs? G. H.
A. The house centipede and the common little red house ant prey upon bedbugs to some extent, but are seldom of much assistance in eradicating the pests.
Q. Can a loaf of bread weigh more than the amount specified on the wrapper? M. W. R.
A. The law governing the marking of the weight of bread on the outside wrappers refers to the minimum weight of the loaf of bread—in other words, the baker guarantees that the loaf weighs at least the amount marked on the wrapper.
Q. Who was the last of the Troubadours? R. T. H.
A. This title was given to the Gascon poet, Jacques Jasmin.
Q. What is the oldest writing in the world today? M. C. C.
A. Egyptian hieroglyphics of about 3500 B. C., are the earliest examples of writing that are still in existence.
Q. What is the largest room in the United States? A. H. C.
A. The passenger concourse of the Union station, Washington, D. C., is the largest room under one roof in the world. Its great length is 760 feet.

Confessions of a Bride

THE BOOK OF DEBORAH

Were Women's Eyes to be Opened Only to the Weakness of Man?

I studied the faces of the two girls walking by my side. Deb's lovely profile rose above Anna's frivolous, discontented, but charming features, and the two faces were reflected like a bas-relief against the green shrubbery bordering the walk.

To me, they represented the two types of women warring in the world today.

"Modern girls are facing novel, undefined and unstable world conditions," said myself to myself. "And dear Deb knows quite as much about life as the silly babe, but she uses her knowledge differently."

Neither Deb nor I could escape a share in the travail of the time, I knew well. I asked myself if the new freedom for women was to prove a curse to all of my sex. Were woman's eyes to be opened only to the weakness of man? And her ingenuity and power to be used only to find new ways to divert him?

Ann, the soft and the weak, was the popular type, but her power would end with her youth and beauty. Deb, sweet and strong, would uplift her love. And so she would keep it and man's happiness to the end of her days. The future is what woman chooses to make it.

There was hope for all because Deb and her kind would survive Ann and her kind, I mused.

Once she had crossed her own threshold, Ann's impulse was to rush immediately to Jim. Her appearance would have shocked him terribly for even her youth and beauty couldn't take care of the effect of her two days' concealment among the stuffy pillows.

"Look at your hair!" I turned Ann toward a mirror and she grimaced at her own reflection like a little monkey. "Look at your blouse! It's all wrinkled up! And your skirt—pulled to one side! Go to your room. Ann, and doll up!" I protested as I blocked the passage which led to Jim's sick chamber.

Ann only pouted. "Jim is rather particular about daintiness in a girl, isn't he?" Deb reflected timidly. Then she put a nervous arm about Ann's waist.

Deb's opinion, being that of a rival in love, had weight. "Jim does fuss an awful lot about fashions," Ann asserted. "Come along!" And so she permitted us to wait upon her as if she were doing us a favor!

I think her maid believed that Ann had been resurrected from the dead. She was so stunned that she was useless and I sent her away. And Deb served Ann like a loving, and I like an outraged, but dutiful sister.

We groomed her, curled her and arrayed her in her sweetest white frock. With her innocent smile, she lacked only wings to make her a veritable cherub. It was impossible to connect her with any wisdom about a man like Paul Van Eyck, impossible to imagine that she had wilfully created a horrid disturbance in the house of Lorimer for full 48 hours!

"Now see here Ann Lorimer!" I said as the rites of the boudoir ended and the fairy creature revolved before a princess mirror. "Don't you dare to confess to Jim that awful truth about yourself and Van! The nurses have told Jim that you are coming. I've attended to that by the phone. And they insist that you mustn't upset him. So just control your desire to act, my dear! Your dramatic tendency, I mean!"

"What do you want me to tell Jim?" Ann snapped. "Can't I confess?"

Adventures of the Twins

Olive Roberts Barton

The Bear and the Walrus

It was odd that an iceberg should appear in the ocean right under the twins as they sailed through the air in their Green Shoes toward the cave of the bad fairy called Satchersnatch.

Had they not been so curious, no doubt they would have been across the world in no time, and on their way back with all the stolen toys. But little folks are curious, you know, and if you were to see an iceberg so near to you, particularly one that looked exactly like a castle, I'm sure you would want to see it at once. That is, if you had Magic Shoes. Well, having Magic Shoes right on their feet, and having the usual amount of curiosity in their minds, Nancy and Nick wished themselves onto the iceberg without losing a minute.

Down they came, floating ever so quietly through the air, and landing on top of the roof. Yes, it was a roof the iceberg had, and the nearer they came the more it looked like a castle. Then the twins discovered that it was a castle indeed.

Found a turret at the minute came a huge white figure growing dreadfully.

Nancy screamed. "Oh, Nick, it's a bear. Where shall we go?"

"What's the matter?" exclaimed the polar bear gruffly. "I won't hurt you. My growl is worse than my bite. Besides I'm not hungry. I've just eaten a large fish. But look out for my friend the walrus!"

The walrus overheard and gave a sort of sharp bark. "Just wait, I'm coming," he snorted. "My eyes are too little to see what you are, but you smell good, and my teeth are sharper than my eyes. Are you seals or fish, or sea-birds? I think I saw you flying."

"We're twins," Nick told him. "Twins!" snorted the walrus fopping nearer. "Are they tender?"

All over the world people use this goody for its benefits, as well as its pleasure.

Keeps teeth clean, breath sweet, throat soothed.

News of Interest From County and State

CANNOT ABOLISH OFFICE BUT CAN STOP THE SALARY

State Superintendent Cary's Job Endangered by Educational Bill.

(Special to Post-Crescent)
Madison, Wis.—Senator George F. Skogmo, River Falls, will introduce a new educational bill in the upper house this week which is believed to have the support of the state board of education and probably all the educational bodies with the exception of the State Superintendent, P. Cary's department. The bill will present a modified form of the New York system and it is understood will take the form of a compromise measure.

The New York system provides for a state board of education of eleven members which will select a commissioner of education to direct the educational policy of the state. Senator George F. Skogmo, River Falls, is preparing a bill to consolidate the educational work of the state into one board. This would include the state board of education, the state superintendent of public instruction, the state board of vocational education, the university and normal regents, Assemblyman William Olson, Green Bay, two weeks ago introduced a bill at the request of State Superintendent Cary abolishing the state board of education and restoring their functions to the state superintendent, the university and normal regents.

The Skogmo bill, which is understood is not exactly the plan of the state board of education but would be more acceptable to it than either of the others, proposes to consolidate the present dual administrative system but to overcome the objection to the one-board system by providing that the reorganized state board of education should become the sole body for the control of the educational policy of the state, while the administrative details would be looked after by the various departments under the supervision of the state board. This would leave the university and normal regents, the vocational board and mining board as at present, except that each would contain in its personnel a representative of labor and of farmers.

However, it would place the state superintendent in a department under the control of the state board. Superintendent Cary denies that this can be done, claiming his is a constitutional office and can only be changed by constitutional amendment, which requires the passage of a measure by two consecutive sessions of the legislature and then approval by the electors of the state at a referendum election. His opponents, however, claim the legislature has the power to do this and eliminate the office by fixing the salary and duties and point to Sec. 1, Art. X of the constitution which reads:

The supervision of public instruction shall be vested in a state superintendent and such other officers as the legislature shall direct; and their qualifications, powers, duties and compensation shall be prescribed by law.

The section also provides for the election of the state superintendent and provides:

The term of office, time and manner of election, appointing all other officers of supervision of public instruction shall be fixed by law.

This the state board of education maintains gives the legislature sole power to regulate the educational system of the state without any constitutional amendment, and it will be maintained in advocating the passage of the Skogmo bill.

COMMITTEE OF WHOLE TO SPEED UP LAWMAKING

(Special to Post-Crescent)
Madison, Wis.—The committee on rules of the two branches of the legislature have agreed to hold joint hearings on bills of importance in an effort to hasten the completion of their work. It may even be possible to hold joint sessions of the legislature as a committee of the whole when some of the biggest measures, such as the big income tax bill, are taken up for hearing and discussion.

Dr. Charles McCarthy, chief of the legislative reference library, has called the attention of a number of the leaders to the fact that in England most of the big matters are considered in parliament by a committee of the whole instead of referring to some smaller committee and that if the same was done here considerable time could be saved and in addition every member would be in position to know what he is voting on instead of merely acting on the recommendation of a small committee.

BLAINE PREPARES ECONOMY MESSAGE

State Executive Will Reveal Financial Condition to Solons This Week.

(Special to Post-Crescent)
Madison, Wis.—All eyes this week will be on Governor John J. Blaine, who is expected to go before the legislature for the second time, about Wednesday, and present his message on the financial condition of the state, of the various departments, and present the administration policy. Governor Blaine went down to his farm in Jansville for the weekend to complete the message and is expected to send a request to the legislature Tuesday for a joint session on Wednesday.

It is known that Governor Blaine plans to make his administration not only one of business but of strict economy. He hopes to reduce taxes by reducing the expenditures, but to do so he is opposed to crippling any of the various departments. On the other hand it is known that he favors changes in some of the departments, consolidating some and rearranging others to abolish all duplication of efforts and thus cut down the personnel of a number of departments with a saving of thousands of dollars annually to the state.

But in addition to the proposed reduction of expenditures as a means of reducing taxes, he favors the establishment of a surtax on incomes, which it is claimed will shift the burden of taxation to those who can best afford to stand it and relieve the small home owner, the wage earner from the heavy taxes he has been paying.

Governor Blaine's message this week is expected to be second in importance only to his message at the opening of the session and will be watched for and read with interest all over the state.

BADGER FOREST FIRE LOSS IS $1,500,000

Madison—Forest fires cost Wisconsin $1,500,000 last year. Most of the fires were caused by careless settlers in the northern part of Wisconsin. C. L. Harrington, conservation commissioner in charge of forestry, told the joint finance committee in urging an increase in appropriations.

Unless the state guards against fires constantly, there is a grave danger of greater damage. Harrington said. It cost Wisconsin $23,000 to guard against fires last year and the federal government spent $2,413 additional.

Harrington protested against a reduction of the appropriation sought for this purpose.

CATLIN LOOMS UP AS REAL LEADER IN LEGISLATURE

Democrats and Socialists Do Not Number Orators Among Their Number.

(Special to Post-Crescent)
Madison, Wis.—Gossip over Sunday in legislative circles pertained largely to the few brief discussions on the floor during the past week and the probable floor leaders in the battles to come.

Although nearly one-half of the members of the assembly are farmers, 18 other professions or occupations are represented and the ten lawyers will not be the only ones who will be heard frequently in debate, although it is expected they will predominate on the floor.

In a brief discussion in the lower house Friday on a bill to increase the witness fees in courts, the first opportunity to judge the forensic powers of some of the members was given and each made a most favorable impression. Assemblyman Frank H. Fowler, for years principal of the public schools in La Crosse and a colonel on General Haan's staff through the world war, looms up as a formidable figure in the debates to come. Large with a pleasing presence, a strong but well modulated voice, he is capable and will command attention and respect.

A. E. Matheson, well known Janesville attorney and prominently mentioned as a possible appointee to the federal bench, is probably the most polished orator in the lower house and as chairman of the committee on state affairs is sure to be a real leader on the floor, as will George Oakes, New Richmond attorney, chairman of the assembly finance committee. Mr. Oakes during the 1919 session did not take the floor very often but when he did he immediately attracted attention and showed that he had made a study of the subject before he attempted to speak on it. A clever lawyer, he is already looked to by many of the new members for guidance as he watches closely for the constitutionality of the various measures.

Among the new members who will doubtless be heard often and who have already loomed up as floor leaders are Attorney Mark S. Catlin, Appleton, a shrewd lawyer, whose training on the athletic field made him a fighter; John L. Dahl, Barron county and Herman W. Sachtjen, Dane county, both convincing speakers, who are expected to become the floor leaders for the administration forces; Frank H. Hanson, Mauston, former senator and a convincing debater, and Nicholas F. Lucas, young attorney from Milwaukee. The socialists have no fluent speaker in the assembly this session and the clashes between the socialists and

SENATE WANTS TO KEEP HAZELBERG

Blaine's Appointee as Prohibition Commissioner May Be Opposed.

(Special to Post-Crescent)
Madison, Wis.—Senator Claude Bird, Wausau, is slated to act as chairman of the special reapportionment committee soon to be created by the legislature and which bids fair to be one of the most important committees of the entire session. The announcement last week of the population of the various congressional, senatorial and assembly districts, with the probable reapportionment has attracted widespread attention and caused a number of members to desire to secure a place on the special committee in order that they may look after their own interests.

The senate will take up the appointments made by Gov. Blaine as a special order of business on Feb. 17, according to agreement. The only hint at opposition to the confirmation of any of the appointments so far pertains to that of V. Stanley Smith, Ashland, appointed to succeed T. T. Hazelberg, Barron, as prohibition commissioner. There does not appear to be any opposition to Mr. Smith personally, few of the members ever saw him, but at least some floor leaders of the other parties will be conspicuous by their absence.

William E. Jordan, Milwaukee, a bricklayer by trade, will be the floor leader for the socialists. Jordan, a member in 1917 and 1919, holds the respect of all the members. He is recognized as a clean, conscientious student of affairs, true to his party and convictions but broad-minded and he bids fair to receiving more recognition and support for his measures than has usually been accorded the socialists.

With only two members in the house, the democratic party will have but little to say on the floor. Neither Burt W. Ryndels, Antigo hotel keeper, nor George Schwalbach, Calumet county farmer claim to be debaters and their presence will be displayed mostly with their voices.

Although there is no denying the fact that some of the districts have been represented in the past by better and more capable men, taken as a whole the assembly this session is above the average.

PRIEST THREATENED BY BLACKHAND GANG

Former Milwaukee Man Asks Federal Police to Trail Gangsters.

Milwaukee—His life threatened by a gang of black hand slayers, who are said to have murdered his brother in the rectory of his parish in a sparsely settled section of central Minnesota eight months ago, the Rev. Stephen J. Schatz, who recently left his parish in Milwaukee, has appealed to the federal authorities at St. Paul for aid in tracing down the gangsters, according to dispatches received from that city Saturday night.

The Rev. Mr. Schatz, who until six weeks ago was pastor of St. John church, Cherry and Fourth streets, according to dispatches, received a number of threatened letters, four of which are said to have been received while he was pastor of the local congregation.

The letters, all post marked at St. Paul, have for their signature a hand, inked in black. Several red spots, evidently indicating blood are placed below the hands. One of the letters, received shortly before the Rev. Mr. Schatz left Milwaukee, reads as follows:

"The fourth warning to you. If you do not watch yourself, we will get you. You better leave that place between the first and fifteenth of March, 1921. The V. Schatz of Gibbon, Minn., got his and you will be dealt with in like manner."

"Take this serious, it is no joke. We have to get you like the other fellow. We have you spotted to die as ordered. Quit your job or die."

"THE BLACK HAND."
"The Black Hand."
Body of Brother Found

The badly decomposed body of the Rev. Valerian Schatz was found on July 14, 1919, in the rectory of his parish at Gibbon, Minn. The chest of the priest is said to have been lacerated, evidently by a charge from a shotgun.

According to reports, the Rev. Mr. Schatz had evidently been dead about ten days. An investigation conducted at the time by the authorities of Sibley county resulted in a verdict that death was caused by a gunshot wound self inflicted.

SWITZERLAND GETS SWISS CHEESE MADE BY BADGERS

(Special to Post-Crescent)
Madison—Wisconsin-made Swiss cheese is now sold in Switzerland.

Three cars were shipped recently, Henry Elmer, secretary of the Southern Wisconsin Swiss Cheesemakers' association told the joint finance committee of the general assembly.

Practically all the Swiss cheese made in the state comes from the southern counties. The center of the industry is Monroe. The association sought a continuation of the appropriation of $1,000 a year to employ a Swiss cheese instructor for the different factories to insure uniform grade.

THE SECRET OF CHARM

Never Changes

Throughout the ages it exerts its power—this charm to which the world bows, changing history and making queens—of nations as well as hearts.

Few can describe it, for charm doesn't depend upon beauty alone. The woman who wields it may be dark or fair, of any race or type.

Only this is certain—she has a perfect skin, fresh, youthful, free from blemishes—the irresistible attraction which all understand and admire.

Begin today to give your complexion the care it needs and this charm will also be yours. It's a beauty secret of ancient Egypt and the beautiful Cleopatra.

Before you sleep, cleanse with Palm and Olive oils

Bad complexions are largely due to lack of proper cleansing. The pores become clogged, then enlarged, then irritated. Blackheads and blotches follow.

Soft and flabby skins often show the lack of a cold water tonic. Rough skins are often caused by using harsh, irritating soaps.

The best preventive is a daily cleansing with Palm-olive soap. It makes a balmy, creamy lather, for the base is palm and olive oils. A gentle massage makes it penetrate. A rinsing takes it out, and with it come all accumulations which have clogged the skin.

Volume and efficiency permit us to sell Palmolive for

10c

PALMOLIVE

Finish with a dash of cold water. Then your skin will be fresh and rosy, clear, soft, smooth.

Done at night, with a finishing touch of cold cream, this means that all night long your skin will have a needed chance to rest and breathe.

A lesson from stage women

All women can learn something from the women of the stage, who use much rouge, much powder. But they remove them before they sleep. And with them the oil, the dirt and perspiration which clog up the pores of the skin.

Their complexions will show you that they do no harm when skins are treated the right way.

Only 10c, yet supreme

Palmolive soap costs little, yet it forms the best skin soap the world ever knew. It employs palm oil from Africa, olive oil from Spain. It combines them in a perfect emollient.

It soothes while it cleanses, softens while it cleans. No price can buy anything better.

The Palmolive price is due to the fact that millions have come to employ it. And we have worked for years to bring it within the reach of all.

On dry skins it is well to apply cold cream, both before and after washing.

Ancient beauties knew the way

Roman beauties, in their famous baths, used palm and olive oils. Egyptian beauties used them in Cleopatra's time.

Now modern science finds no better way to beauty than by scientific blending of these oils.

$150 IN PRIZES AT COMING CORN SHOW

Liberal Awards Are Provided by Merchants Through Chamber of Commerce.

Prizes to the amount of $150 will be offered by the chamber of commerce to winners in the Appleton corn show conducted in connection with the farmer meeting at the court house February 15 and 16. Circulars have been sent to all rural schools and other publicity matter distributed to assure large exhibits.

The prize list is one of the most liberal offered in the state in any farmer contest. Chances of capturing an award are so easy and the offerings so attractive that one of the largest displays of prize corn ever seen here is expected. A number of Appleton business houses were given the privilege of offering prizes and accepted. Many are orders for merchandise.

For the best 10-car samples of Golden Glow yellow dent corn the first prize is $10 credit toward a cash account at the First National bank.

Second prize is a $10 credit at Gloucesters-Gage Co. store. Thirteen dollars in cash will be given covering five other prizes.

Prizes for the best 10-car samples of Silver King white dent corn are $10 credit at Appleton State Bank for first, $5 merchandise order at Saecker-Diederich company for second, and four others amounting to $10 in cash.

Special Awards
Ten best ears of any other variety of dent corn will bring first prize of $10 in trade at Pettibone-Peabody Co.; second, $10 credit at Geenen Dry Goods Co.; five others totaling $15 in cash.

For the best 10-car sample of flint corn $5 credit in savings at the Citizens bank is to be given. Second and third prizes total $5 in cash.

A credit of $5 at Hecker Shoe store is to be given for the best 10-car sample of sweet corn, $3 for second, $2 for third. Similar prizes are announced for the best 10 ears of popcorn, with the merchandise order of $5 offered by Schlafer Hardware Co.

Four special awards are $5 credit on savings at Outagamie County bank for the best single ear of Golden Glow yellow dent corn; $5 in trade at Schlafer Hardware Co. for best ear Silver King Dent corn; $5 credit on savings at Citizens National bank for best single ear of dent variety; $5 in trade at Matt Schmidt and Son for largest ear of corn, any variety.

Samples must be at the court house by 12 o'clock Tuesday, February 15. W. G. Jamison is chairman of the committee in charge of the contest. Letters and prize lists are being sent to rural schools by William Fountain, chairman of the rural affairs committee of the chamber of commerce.

EXPRESS COMPANY AIDS STARVING EUROPEANS

The American Railway Express Co. is among the numerous agencies throughout the country cooperating with Herbert Hoover, chairman of the European Relief council, in his effort to raise $33,000,000 for relief of starving European children.

Through the authorization of G. C. Taylor, president of the American Railway Express Co., "invisible guest" certificates have been placed on sale at express offices throughout the country. The certificates have been received at the Appleton office by W. N. Kimball, local agent.

The certificates show just how much was given by the individual and how long that amount will feed a child. A subscription of $1 will keep a child for a month, and $10 will keep one till the next European harvest.

INCREASED DEMAND FOR SUMMER COTTAGES

There promises to be a greater demand than ever for cottages at Lake Winnebago the coming summer and it is understood that several new ones will be built, but they will be located some distance from the interurban street car track. The call for cottages was so great last summer that the only way they could be secured was by locating them several weeks in advance of the time they were wanted.

SCOUTS TO TEACH GOOD TURN GOSPEL

Wearing of Square Knot This Week Will Be Reminder to Serve Others.

Appleton people will be taught this week by boy scouts to think of their fellow men. They will be urged to be helpful to their neighbor, their business associate, their fellow work man and all with whom they come in contact.

Almost everybody is wearing a square knot pinned to the lapel of the coat during scout anniversary week starting Monday. The knots were prepared by scouts. They are mounted on attractively printed cards calling attention to the scout law, "do a good turn daily."

Distribution started Sunday morning in Appleton churches. Those who did not receive a knot at that time will be supplied during the early days of the week.

"The little piece of cord is to be the means of developing the good turn habit among all our citizens," said E. R. Henderson, scout executive. "We want to stimulate a better community spirit—to make people think about their next door neighbor. We want to emphasize the principle of service."

NEW KANSAS NEWSPAPER RECEIVED BY C. OF C.

Kansas City, Kansas, has a daily newspaper of its own for the first time in history, made possible mainly through efforts of the Kansas City Chamber of Commerce. A copy of the first issue has been received by Hugh G. Corbett, managing secretary of the Appleton chamber.

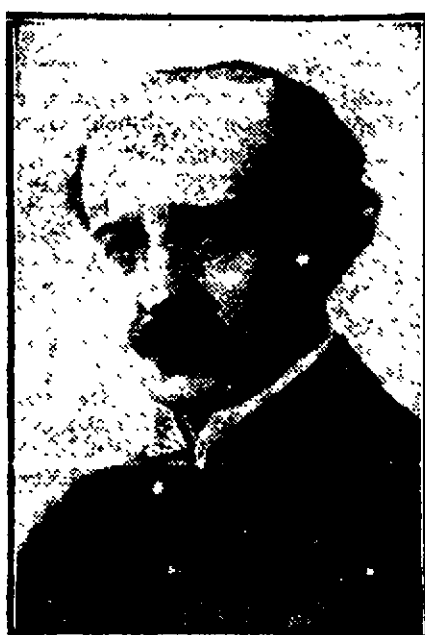

The paper is accompanied by a bulletin telling how the Kansas City chamber kept up agitation for a paper for nearly a year and finally gained the consent of Senator Arthur Capper, Kansas newspaper man, to establish one. The city had previously depended on three papers in Kansas City, Mo., across the river, for its news. A circulation of 16,000 and 520 advertising contracts were assured before publication was started.

MAN OF MOODS

Emil Oberhoffer
"What does Mr. Oberhoffer play best?"

That is the question put many times to members of the Minneapolis Symphony orchestra, Emil Oberhoffer, conductor, which comes to Appleton Wednesday, Feb. 16.

But, many times as the question has been put, it has never been satisfactorily answered, for the versatility of the graceful Bavarian artist who guides the destinies of the organization is one of his most remarkable assets.

MOTHERS DISLIKE TO APPLY FOR AID

Judge Bottensek Finds Women Won't Ask for Help Unless They Need It.

"Look at that woman's coat! You wouldn't imagine she is entitled to a mother's pension, but she is and justly so," said Judge Bottensek to a reporter at work at a table in the county courtroom.

The reporter saw a woman clad in a warm, good looking coat disappear through the door. She had just been given a grilling as to her financial condition by the judge who lessened her burden by assuring her that she would be granted a pension but not the maximum amount.

In her statement of particulars the judge discovered that while her husband was alive the woman lived on a farm and was well provided for. That is how she came by the coat and the loss of her husband was no reason why she should dispose of it at a sacrifice, the judge said.

The woman was left with several children and very little means. She struggled as best she could for several years providing for her little ones until her health gave out and then she applied for aid.

"It is seldom that a mother applies for a pension," said John Bottensek, "when she is not entitled to it. As a usual thing they are accompanied by some of their children and are timid about making application. They seldom exaggerate their financial condition and possibly do not always get as much as they expect, but the aid given them assists wonderfully in keeping the family together."

A short time ago a mother made application for a pension she was entitled to, but did not know that such provision had been made by law. She was left with 11 small children and, unaided, had taken care of them ever since her husband's death, but the

C. OF C. WILL HAVE TAX EXPERT HERE

T. J. Tobin Will Be Here Feb. 10 to Confer With Business Men on Taxes.

Advice on federal taxation matters will be given chamber of commerce members all day Feb. 10 by T. J. Tobin, in Chicago. Mr. Tobin is a tax expert of Archibald Harris and company, the chamber's taxation counselor, and will be at the chamber of commerce office to consult with members.

Members are expected to prepare their questions in advance and then see Mr. Tobin. Those who find it impossible to confer with him will be permitted to submit problems in writing to the Appleton chamber for transmission to Chicago, or they may be mailed direct.

Recent decisions of the treasury department on inventories, and a decision by District Judge Thomas of Connecticut regarding profits from the sale of capital assets have confused many businessmen in correct preparation of returns. These and other matters such as invested capital, depreciation and income will be explained by Mr. Tobin.

HEAR INAUGURAL ADDRESS HERE

Appleton Wireless Sharps Expect to "Listen in" While Harding Talks.

Perhaps a dozen boys in Appleton will hear the inaugural address of President-elect Harding on March 4. By means of amateur wireless sets they will, providing they can "tune up," hear the whole address without moving from their chairs. Some of the boys who have sets and are planning on "listening in" are Anthony Rank, Harvey Schroeder, Harry Queli, Dallas Jansen and Robert Thompson.

Harvey Schroeder with only an ordinary amateur wireless has been receiving messages from as far away as California.

Notice is usually given before by the sending wireless station that it will send on a certain wave length. The amateur wave length is 200 meters, and if the inaugural address is sent on that basis, the amateurs will be able to hear it. If the wave length is different, it will mean "tuning up."

the instrument. That task consists of turning a few knobs until the correct spark has been secured. The boys are now waiting for the announcement that will determine what wave length is to be used. The boys, however, think that it will be 200 meters, because more wireless stations will be able to catch the message.

LABOR SHORTAGE BADLY CRIPPLES BEET INDUSTRY

Outagamie Men Will Raise Sugar Beets If They Can Get Helpers.

Misrepresentation by employment agencies, unavailability of the class of labor furnished, and dissatisfaction alike on the part of employer and employee was a combination last summer that nearly killed the beet industry in Outagamie county. Many of their experiences with foreign and Mexican help were related at the meeting of beet growers at the courthouse Saturday afternoon and some of the farmers became agitated when they recalled them.

The employment agencies were alleged to have promised some of the workers a house, several acres of a garden, cow, and the use of a horse or automobile. They came here with that understanding and thought they were being imposed upon when they were not forthcoming. Some of the growers said it would have taken everything they possessed to have satisfied them.

"Solution of the labor problem is more important than the price of beets," said Henry East, rural route No. 2, Appleton, one of the heavy beet growers of the county. In addressing the Wisconsin Sugar Beet Growers' association, "and if you can assure me sufficient help of the right kind I may reconsider the matter of growing beets the coming summer."

Should Organize
Mr. Clemmens said he was not in position to give him any assurance but stated it was a question that could be handled to better advantage by an organization than by individuals. He called attention to the fact that labor conditions were abnormal last year and that less trouble in this respect was anticipated in the future.

Several other beet growers who had experiences similar to those of Mr. East were not inclined to grow beets the coming summer, but were informed that was no bar to their becoming members of the association. C. R. Blanshan of Seymour, formerly field man for one of the sugar beet factories in this part of the state, said that misrepresentations had also been made to the families sent to him and that he took the matter up personally with his company. The employment agencies of the company were promptly notified to discontinue further misrepresentation, the company not being aware that it was being done.

The advantages to be gained through organization was brought out by both Mr. Clemmens and B. Smith of Milwaukee, a representative of the Wisconsin Sugar Beet Growers' association. The latter was one of the first beet growers of the state and told how the association had benefited growers in this part of the state. Mr. Clemmens said that federal and state governments are willing to render assistance in every possible way to sugar beet growers if they would only make known their wants through concerted effort. By organizing the growers were assured they would get better prices for their beets.

Like Equity Plan
The most favored plan of organization was through the American Society of Equity which already had the necessary machinery in operation. More than a dozen of the thirty-five growers who attended the meeting signed membership application blanks and paid their fees. Application blanks are to be sent to all the locals of the American Society of Equity in the county.

In his address to the beet growers, Mr. Clemmens, who is president of the Racine County Union of the American Society of Equity as well as director of the National Union and Wisconsin State Union of the American Society of Equity, said in part:

"In going over the state I find the general impression among sugar beet growers that we are not going to grow many sugar beets as last year. It is absolutely a wrong view to take. Inevitably you have got to grow something. You want to divide up a little."

"Last year there were something like 30,000 acres of sugar beets grown in the state of Wisconsin. Now, if sugar beet growers expect to use this land and turn it over into some other crop you will be long on that end and short on the sugar end. So from that viewpoint it is not a good proposition to give up."

Mrs. Hare Sugar
"On the other hand we have sugar beet factories. There is a tremendous amount of money invested in them, and the factories should run. We need sugar. We are going to use more right along."

"You know something happened a year ago. They tell me the country went dry. When that happens we are going to do something else to spend our money. It takes $6 1/2 pounds of sugar per person to supply us. It will not be long before the

NOTICE OF FORECLOSURE AND SALE

STATE OF WISCONSIN—MUNICIPAL Court, Outagamie County.

Mary Heckel, plaintiff.

John Hooyman, Rose Hooyman, and Henry Geenen, defendants.

By virtue of a judgment of foreclosure and sale, made in the above entitled action on the fourth day of February, A. D. 1921, the undersigned sheriff of Outagamie County, State of Wisconsin, will sell at public sale to the highest and best bidder, at the sheriff's office in the Court House in the City of Appleton, Outagamie County, Wisconsin, on the fourth day of April, 1921, at ten o'clock in the forenoon of that day, the real estate and mortgage premises, directed by said judgment to be sold and therein described as follows, to-wit:

The Southeast Quarter of the Southeast Quarter (SE 1/4 SE 1/4) of Section Sixteen (16) and the North Half of the Southwest Quarter of the Northwest Quarter (N 1/2 NW 1/4 NW 1/4) of Section Twenty-two (22), all in Township Twenty-two (22) North of Range

22 East of the 1st Meridian, in the County of Outagamie, State of Wisconsin.

The application of Charles Kiekhoefer, administrator of the estate of May Kiekhoefer, late of said County, deceased, for the examination and allowance of his final account, the examination and determination of the inheritance tax due from said estate and the assignment of the residue of the estate of said deceased to such person or persons as are by law entitled to same.

Dated Appleton, Wis., January 31, 1921.

By order of the Court:
JOHN BOTTENSEK, County Judge.

GILES H. PUTNAM, Attorney for the Estate.

Willing To Help

"Now, we want to equalize things. The government is willing to work for us if we come before it with one voice. We find the United States Sugar Refining corporation with its office in Washington and with lobbyists on the ground looking out for its interests. As far as we are concerned we want this and want that, but what do we know about it. We don't know what we want. We have not gone into it."

"In the first place, we want to get a state organization and hook it up with the national organization and then we can get what we want and make certain demands as to what we believe is right and in cooperation with the sugar beet factories of this state as well as with the nation we can work out a legislative policy between the two."

"When we go west we find that they have been very active in organization work. Perhaps they took a greater interest in doing so. The acreage planted by western growers is much larger than that of Wisconsin. Some plant 1,000 acres. Sugar beet manufacturers of the west have made greater returns on the capital invested than those in Wisconsin. I think perhaps that is due to the more economical system of operating their plants."

"I want to impress upon you the necessity of organizing, of getting together so as to overcome these things. I say this, that no man has a right to go out on the highway and condemn any business concern for anything it might do."
